

better days

words and music - victor kreider arrangement - the bbs lounge

By the summer of 1999, I had written over 100 secular songs without an accent. One afternoon that summer, I decided to spend my swaggering attitude and about five minutes writing my first worship song. Humbled by God, close friends would greet me (often!) with "theez aww betta daize." Thanks to delirious and God's humor I occasionally pronounce words funny now!

(Proverbs 3:5-6, Psalm 2:12, Psalm 37:3, Psalm 119:35 and Isaiah 26:3-4) relative to a capo on the first fret

D₂ A₂ C_{maj7} G₆ trust in the Lord with all your heart and don't hang on your own understanding in all your ways acknowledge Him and He will make your paths straight and you will say

 D₂ A_{sus} C₂ G
these are better days the more that i seek You these are better days the more that i hear You these are better days the more i draw near to You these are better days...the more i know You these are better days the more that i praise You these are better days the more that i follow You these are better days the more i take refuge in You

these are better days...the more i know You

Em₇ C_{add9} D₂ A₂
You reveal Yourself at every turn i make

Em₇ C_{add9}
when i call upon Your help

 D₂ A₂ C G
i know my life will change it will change
